AMENDMENT

Hon. Assistant Commissioner
For Patents
Washington, D.C. 20231
Sir:

COMMENTS ON AMENDMENTS TO THE CLAIMS

The amendments to the claims are proposed in order to more particularly point out the Applicant's invention, in order to impart precision, and in order to more fully protect the invention described in the disclosure of the instant application.

The claims recite combinations of distinguishing limitations including a digital signal processor program, filtered or signal processed or pattern recognition or data compressed or iteratively processed or searched or matched or transformed or updated or correlated or signature modulated or RF modulated or radar image or medical image or seismic information, an indirect transfer instruction or an index instruction or an interrupt instruction or having a read only memory write instruction or a decrement instruction or a decrement and transfer instruction or a conditional transfer instruction or a looping instruction or a skip on condition instruction or a serial input instruction or a serial output instruction or a discrete output instruction or a
